

cruising

Cruising in my son-in-law Dean's 1967 HR Holden in the sunshine near Christchurch, NZ. My father, Kevin, is on the left, enjoying the old column shift, the way things used to be before cars became easy to drive

This is an instrumental that I composed, I mean, made up, a few years ago. Before I had a name for it I asked people at a gig what they thought it reminded them of. One person said, "a sunny sunday afternoon". Another said, "cruising in my car". So it became "Cruising in my car on a sunny sunday afternoon". But that was too awkward so it got shortened to 'cruising', not to be confused with another sort of cruising some of my friends have done!

The guitar is tuned to E B E Ab B E
Good luck and let me know if you figure it out!

© Simon Kerr, 2004